

Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness

JOINT INFORMATION CENTER

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 30, 2008

Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness News

State activates Gustav hotlines for Spanish speakers

Baton Rouge - The Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness (GOHSEP) has activated a toll-free number Spanish-speaking residents of the state may call to get the latest information regarding Hurricane Gustav.

Citizens may dial 1-866-288-4539 to listen to a recorded message with the most up-to-date information state officials have on the storm and preparations for it.

Gustav is now a major hurricane and is expected to impact Louisiana as early as Monday.

Residents are asked to continue to monitor local media for updates as the state continues to prepare for possible landfall of Hurricane Gustav. The message will be updated as news warrants.

Citizens with internet access can also visit www.emergency.louisiana.gov for the latest information related to Hurricane Gustav.

For the latest on Hurricane Gustav, you can visit emergency.louisiana.gov or call the state's emergency hotline at 1-866-288-2484 to listen to a recorded message with the most up-to-date information.

--30--